

CICR

The private military company complex in central and southern Africa : the problematic application of international humanitarian law / Mathew Kincade

Document type:	Article
Title:	The private military company complex in central and southern Africa : the problematic application of international humanitarian law
Author zone:	Mathew Kincade
Host item entries:	Global studies law review,
Languages:	English
	Photocopies. Source : https://openscholarship.wustl.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1428&context=law_globalstudies (last accessed on 15.06.2020)
Abstract:	The article discusses that the international humanitarian laws has been designed to control state armies and to protect human rights during armed conflict. It addresses that three major issues discussed in Geneva Convention regarding a major role of Private Military Companies (PMC), a private armed security service, in Africa. It expresses four penalty options for PMC regulation with uniform legislative approach regarding mercenary conduct and completely bans PMC use.
Authors:	Kincade, Mathew
Keyword in English:	COMPANY SECURITY AFRICA APPLICABILITY IHL (INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW) MERCENARY
Keyword in French:	ENTREPRISE SECURITE AFRIQUE APPLICABILITE DIH MERCENAIRE

Call number	Disponability / Due date
345.29/192 (Br.)	Available