Abstract:	These posters explain what it means to work in economic and food security for the ICRC, whether as an agronomist, nutritionist, cash and market specialist, or an EcoSec generalist delegate. They also give the backgrounds of a few people who are already doing these jobs. Our economic security programmes help victims of armed conflict and other violence meet their essential needs and cover unavoidable expenses. We act quickly and flexibly, but we also take care to ensure our programmes are sustainable and respect people's dignity.
